"OLD GUARD" MAY TRY TO SLAP ROOSEVELT AGAIN

Said to Plan a Second Nomination of Sherman by Committee

PLATFORM FIGHT

Proposition to Force Contest on an Endorsement of Taft for 1912

SARATOGA, Sept. 25.—The battle between the Old Guard and Progressives for control of the party has been fought out now for four years ago, was engaged in the merchandise business and shipping in San Francisco, died yesterday. He was a native of Rhode Island, 79 years old and came West by way of Cape Horn. He was well known among early sea captains, operating several steam and sailing vessels.

Although it has been announced by the Progressive leaders that the committee would not be asked to reconsider its vote by which Vice President Sherman was selected over Theodore Roosevelt for temporary chairman, it was said tonight that the Old Guard would take the bull by the horns and force the issue on their own account.

This indicates that the Old Guard regards itself as still safely entrenched in the committee.

While the reason advanced is that the committee gives itself a formal vindication for its action in view of the upsurge that have been cast upon it by Colonel Roosevelt's friends, the latter say that the real purpose is to intrude and embarrass the colonel by placing the committee on record for a second time that he is not the choice for temporary chairman.

Though indications tonight point to a sure control of the convention by the Roosevelt forces, a report from Old Guard headquarters is that only forty votes were needed to swing the convention into the Sherman column.

Members of the Old Guard were saying tonight that a line upon a temporary chairman is a very different proposition from a line upon a platform. It is also rumored that trouble is likely to arise over the Taft endorsement. No opposition has developed to an endorsement of the President's administration, but there are hints that the Old Guard may attempt to put the Republicans out of New York state through the convention on record as endorsing the renomination of Taft two years hence.

PRESIDENT TAFT AT WASHINGTON

Cabinet House Party Is to Begin Today for a Week

CURRY PREDICTS JOHNSON VICTORY BY BIG MAJORITY

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—Biram Johnson, a publican candidate for governor, rested here today from his campaign work. He called on his defeated opponent for the nomination Secretary of State Curry, and thanked Curry for the latter's offer of support. Biram denied that the conference had been arranged other than Curry's statement that "I am with Johnson heart and soul. He will win by a large majority."

Johnson leaves tomorrow on a strenuous week's trip, which will include speeches all the way from Pinoleville tomorrow night to Los Angeles Saturday night, and others between Angels Camp, Stockton, Modesto and Fresno.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS PHEAVERS TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 25.—Under the direction of the state board of health requiring quarantine for infants with paralysis, thirteen cases were unquarantined with a blue card in Tacoma by the health inspectors today. Two deaths have resulted from the disease here.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Henry Read, who prior to moving to Los Angeles forty years ago, was engaged in the merchandise business and shipping in San Francisco, died yesterday. He was a native of Rhode Island, 79 years old and came West by way of Cape Horn. He was well known among early sea captains, operating several steam and sailing vessels.

CHINESE HONORS FOR AMERICANS

Western Customs Displayed at Peking Social Entertainments

PEKING, Sept. 25.—The visit of Jason M. Dickinson, the American secretary of war, Brigadier General Clarence H. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, and a party to Peking will end tomorrow. It has been marked by a round of entertainments and display of Western innovations never before known in China.

The prince regent, on learning that neither Secretary Dickinson nor General Edwards was able to accept decorations, sent to Mrs. Dickinson a pair of Cloisonne vases of the Chien Lung period. The regent also sent a pair of red lacquer boxes of similar antiquity to Mrs. Dickinson and to Mrs. Edwards.

A banquet was given in honor of the secretary and the other visitors last evening by Chinese students who have returned from America.

Many ladies were present and a considerable number of Chinese appeared without queues and in evening clothes to which apparently they had been accustomed while residing in the United States.

More than 100 of the guests had come from the various cities of north China. Representatives of those places declared that the government which originally persecuted them was now giving them the highest offices. Toasts were given to their Alma Mater.

LORIMER HEARING TO PROCEED TODAY

State Representative White Will Be the First to Go on the Stand

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—President Taft arrived here this morning. He went to the White House for breakfast, attended church and took a short automobile ride with Secretary Meyer, had Senator Curtis of Kansas as a luncheon guest and spent the afternoon and evening at home."

The house party at the White House does not begin until tomorrow. Then members of the Cabinet will move in bag and baggage and remain until the President goes away on Saturday next.

A week of only cabinet meetings will be the inauguration tomorrow at 11 o'clock. All the members of the cabinet except Secretary Dickinson will be here.

Representative E. B. Bullock, among other things, the President's forthcoming appointments to the Supreme Court, the creation of a court of commerce, departmental estimates for the coming fiscal year and plans for greater economy and efficiency in departmental methods, the establishment of the postal banks and the extension of the civil service to include all assistant postmen and permanent clerks in money order offices.

WOMAN KILLED IN FIRST AUTO RIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Death ended the first automobile ride ever taken by Mrs. Laura Harris of San Rafael, when the car in which she was traveling with her son, J. Bower, was struck by a freight train just night near Walnut Creek, Contra Costa county. The party was returning from an inspection tour over property Mrs. Harris was thinking of buying. The road followed the tracks for a distance, then curved through cut to the crossing. The chauffeur was unable to stop when he saw the train before the front wheels were on the track and in the crash that followed Mrs. Harris was thrown in front of the engine and sustained injuries from which she died two hours later.

TWO THROWN FROM AUTO. SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—Hurled headlong to the ground from a touring car when the automobile struck a telephone post at the corner of Thirty-first and M streets shortly after midnight this morning, March 8, Valentine, of 825 Tenth street, a department manager of the Hawk & Carlyle Real Estate company, was seriously injured, and Robert Swanson, driver of the machine, and whose father is a well-to-do wholesale butcher, suffered painful injuries. The automobile was wrecked.

EMILY REYNOLDS, who organized the literary colony and incidentally owns the bungalow which house it, is the originator of the dining club idea. With her in the venture are associated Mrs. Richard Howe, Olive Thorne Miller, Dr. Maria Wing and Mrs. Peter Valentine, of 825 Tenth street, a department manager of the Hawk & Carlyle Real Estate company, was seriously injured, and Robert Swanson, driver of the machine, and whose father is a well-to-do wholesale butcher, suffered painful injuries. The automobile was wrecked.

Determined effort was made to bring all the members of the colony in but the men declined to give up their home kitchens. James Schultz led the efforts of the opposition, and they stood firm.

SOUTH DAKOTA CITY MAY SINK INTO HOMESTAKE MINE

Cave-in Causes a Great Hole in the Center of Lead

PEOPLE FRIGHTENED

Hundreds of Miles of Mine Tunnel Form Network Under the City

DEADWOOD, S. D., Sept. 25.—The filling of a hole at the 300-foot level of the Homestake mine at Lead, S. D., early today, started a cave-in which continued to the surface, making a hole in the heart of the city tunnel, fast and forty feet long. When the dust had cleared away the bottomless shaft house was seen hanging over the edge of the cavern.

Fright among the residents of Lead, most of whom live over similar caverns, was allayed somewhat by the assurance from mining officials that there was no danger of further cave-ins. The Homestake has hundreds of miles of caverns under the city and extends to the upper levels, well toward the surface.

WHISKY TRAIN WRECK. PEORIA, Sept. 25.—Three members of the Chicago and Alton train crew were seriously injured at 2:30 this morning when a freight train No. 180 ran into an open switch at Washburn, Ill. The engine turned over and cargo loaded with whisky were derailed. The wreckage took fire and before help could arrive from Peoria the whole train was consumed. Seven buildings near the right-of-way took fire and for a time the entire business district of Washburn was threatened.

PERSONAL GRIEVANCES ARE NOT TO BE HEARD

National Irrigation Congress Will Attend to Business Strictly

PUEBLO, Colo., Sept. 25.—A determination to permit the greatest latitude in discussion of irrigation problems, but to keep the deliberations free from sectional disputes or personal grievances, is voted by officers and delegates already here for the eighteenth national irrigation congress which opens tomorrow.

Notable among the arrivals here today are Dr. E. McQuown Grace of New Mexico, George E. Barstow of Texas, R. N. Singer of Spokane, all officially connected with the congress, and C. B. Schmidt of Chicago, commissioner of irrigation of the Rock Island lines. W. J. Bryan will arrive at Pueblo early tomorrow, and will be the principal speaker before the congress Monday night.

The representation of foreign countries at this congress will establish a new record. Already delegates have arrived from all continents as follows: Austria-Hungary, Chevalier George Von Grivice, German, M. Kaumanns and M. Quendler; India, M. Nother sole; Canada, R. H. Campbell, W. H. Fairchild, Australia, H. McKenzie and Edward Mead; Russia, T. Skorniski; Italy, R. Kristofch; Chile, A. Alman; Cuba, L. J. Canova and G. L. Fortune; Mexico, general Adelacio.

Tomorrow will be given over to the formal opening exercises, including a mammoth industrial parade.

WIREMAN IS KILLED BY A 2000 VOLT CURRENT

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Sept. 25.—David W. Barr, aged 46, an employee of the Southern California Edison Company was electrocuted at 10 o'clock this morning, while striking wires on Terminal Island. He was on top of a pole when his arm came in contact with a live wire carrying 2,000 volts. The cross arms prevented Barr from falling, but when lowered to the ground life was extinct.

AVIATOR BROOKING TO TRY FOR TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Walter R. Brookings, aviator, will attempt a flight with a Wright Brothers aeroplane from Chicago to Springfield, Ill., next Thursday, in an effort to win a $10,000 prize offered by the Chicago Record Herald for such a feat. The start of the 150-mile flight will be made from Washington Park on the South Side. The aviator will try to land in the grounds at the state capital.

Brookings will make trial flights on the lake front Tuesday and Wednesday.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Jane Clifton, widow of Rear Admiral Christopher J. Clifton, who was with the Farragut at the fall of Vicksburg and who served in the navy during and for thirty-eight years, died here yesterday at the home of her daughter, aged 72 years. The body will be taken to Washington, D. C., tomorrow for interment beside her husband.

A determined effort was made to bring all the members of the colony in but the men declined to give up their home kitchens. James Schultz led the efforts of the opposition, and they stood firm.

KILLS A WOMAN, ESCAPES A MOB, KILLED BY TRAIN

OSKALOOSA, Ia., Sept. 25.—Swift retribution overtook William Boston after he had shot and fatally wounded Susan Lessson, 29 years of age, at Elkhart, Ind. Pursued by friends of the woman, who had pistol Boston, the man fled through a wood and attempted to board a moving train, cut of bread and ate it through fear, Boston fell under the wheels of the train and was ground to death.

WITH FOOT CAUGHT IN SWITCH, HE WATCHES ENGINE APPROACH TO CUT HIM DOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Lead workers at the working of the lead in a switch frog, Jan. 8, last, a laborer watched today the approach of an engine which severed the impeded member at the ankle. The accident happened on a curve in the freight yard, and the engine was stopped, setting the switch to stop. When the engine started so that he could not get up, he threw himself backward and avoided the coming of the engine. The shock was so great there is little chance of recovery.

RAKER INELIGIBLE FOR CONGRESSMAN

Judge of Modoc County Is Confronted by Clause in State Constitution

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—John E. Raker's eligibility to election to Congress is called into question in the first district where he is the Democratic candidate against W. F. Englebright. Englebright is a Judge of the Superior Court in Humboldt county and has served as a state representative. Article 6, Section 18, of the constitution of the state, points out that Englebright's wife is ineligible.

"The justices of the Supreme Court and judges of the Superior Court shall be ineligible to any other office or public employment, than a judicial office or employment during the term for which they shall have been elected."

Raker might be reached through injunction against the printing of his name in the ballot at the November election. However, there is no suggestion that his opponent intends to take such a course. He will probably content himself with calling the attention of the voters of the first district for which they shall have been elected.

In his story Miss Messerschmidt told that Paul D. Parker, the young man who had known Miss Swan for eight years, had visited the hospital on three occasions to see the dying girl after the operation. The police immediately took Parker into custody. He admitted the visit to the hospital to see Miss Swan, but strongly denied any responsibility in the affair. Later he gave the police a detailed account of his connection with the case.

Miss Messerschmidt said she was not present at the operation, which she asserted was performed on Miss Swan April 16th of this year at the office of Dr. Grant. Following the operation Miss Swan returned to the office where she was employed, but was forced to leave her work on April 20th because of illness. She went again to Dr. Grant and was placed in bed in the small hospital ward maintained by the doctor. There she remained for ten days, her condition gradually becoming worse until her death. According to Miss Messerschmidt, the girl died during the night while alone. She was found dead in bed in the morning.

NURSE'S STATEMENT

Following is the full text of the nurse's confession:

"My name is Marie Messerschmidt and I live at 1295 Edge Avenue. On Saturday evening, April 16, 1910, Miss Eva Swan, 16, of Scott, was operated on by Dr. Robert Schmidt, Sacramento. Dr. Schmidt is known as Dr. Grant. Following the operation Miss Swan returned to the office where she was employed, but was forced to leave her work on April 20th because of illness. "About 8 p. m. that evening the truck was moved to 327 Euclid street, the doctor going out to 327 Euclid street on a car and stayed there all night, returning about 11 a. m. the next morning, saying to me: 'Could not bury the body because people were watching me.' He (Dr. Grant) went to the Euclid street house that night again and stayed all night, returning about 11 o'clock next morning, stating to me that he could not bury the body in the yard as it was very bright in the light and he had to leave the body in the basement under the cement floor." Dr. Grant said it would never be found as it was an old house and would never be rented and when I asked him what he had done with the trunk he said he had left it in the basement.

MODERN UNITARIANISM AND ITS MISSION IN THIS WORLD

First Sermon Preached in Auditorium of Fresno's
New Church

One Object Is to Preach
Good Cheer, Draw and Hold the Young

"The Missing of Modern Unitarianism" was the subject yesterday of the first sermon in the new auditorium of the First Unitarian church delivered by the minister, Rev. Thomas Clayton.

The speaker said that in using the word modern he had desired to emphasize the changes which have taken place in views since the days of Channing or Parker. As Unitarians, we are deburred from the fellowship of the "orthodox" denominations; while means we must take religion in their way, or they will not admit we have it at all. Against this form of intellectual tyranny we must continue to protest. "Though the heavens fall," until a more reasonable view of religion finds acceptance among our zealous but infatuated brethren. An liberating influence we are rendering a most important service to our age.

HOME FOR LIBERALS

Our mission is further to furnish a religious home for homeless liberals and agnostics, whose belief, or lack of belief, makes the other churches undesirable to them. Their number is legion, and they are gradually drifting away from all religious organizations. To one who looks thoughtfully on, they seem like sheep without a shepherd. Beneath the crust of dislike and prejudice, there lies a well of religious aspiration and life, which once reached will rise to the surface and assert itself in a gratifying manner.

To reveal to such men and women that there is a church and a method of worship which they can embrace without doing violence to their judgment, is one of the most gratifying tasks that fall to our lot. Such people once won, become most loyal and earnest, and are an honor to the churches with which they become affiliated. Of all such "we may ask, where shall they go, if not to the Unitarian churches? You find the answer in any large community where there is no liberal church. Some of the best people will tell you they never go to or join a church because they can get no help or comfort by hearing things that do violence to their reason and conscience. Here then, is our field, and our mission, in every center of population.

It is our mission to strive to make God real, and His character reasonable and acceptable to men who have repudiated the old conceptions of deity. A reverent agnosticism seems more desirable than the dogmatic teaching of the terrible attributes of Jehovah.

Among other things we must teach the divine Fatherhood of God. No less a conception of Him will satisfy the hearts of men. He is the Father of all life, or of none. In Him, we live, move and have our being, or we are the product of an endless chain of mechanical causes and effects. God all in all, or not at all; is the alternative. Here is a great work for us to accomplish.

BROADER INTERPRETATIONS

We must also give to religion and the church a broader interpretation.

Allowing that the chief function of religion is the promotion of communion between man and the Infinite Life, and the development of spirituality as the fruit of that fellowship, yet this is but preparatory to the life which contributes most to the well-being of the race. In other words, the church must minister to the culture of the whole man, physical, mental and social as well as spiritual. The whole life of the people must be the care of the church, if it holds their allegiance. Such a broad interpretation of the mission of the church is the one condition of its restoration to its former position in the social and civil life of the nations.

Hence as a church we intend to pay more attention to the cultivation of those arts of life which promote better character and larger personality, as well as make life more valuable.

Music, for instance, must receive a large share of attention, not only its use in our services, but its development among the people.

Likewise the drama, which originated in the service of religion. The dramatic instinct is strong among the people, and it will seek an outlet; if the churches continue to ignore and condemn it, and refuse it a place in the life of their people, it will continue to take the place of the church in the lives of multitudes.

If the church is to touch life at every point, it will encourage a taste for literature, and be interested in all kinds of wholesome recreation, as ministering to the refreshment of muscle and nerve; for we are learning more fully how much the higher faculties are dependent upon the condition of the physical organism. All of which opens up a wide field of service, and will keep the churches busy every day in the week.

It is also our mission to preach a religion of good cheer.

It is not wise to longer cultivate the solemn, serious demeanor which has heretofore passed as religious.

TO HOLD THE YOUNG

If the church is to attract and hold the young, it must not quench their joyousness, for youth will not surrender its right to gaiety and cheerfulness. Religion must be interpreted in terms of happiness and cheerfulness; for the world sorely needs relief from the strain incident to the struggle for life, forced upon us by our modern industrial machinery.

If God is our Father and a God of love, if every force and movement in the universe is tending toward better things, why should our religion lead to fear? Instead of dread it must induce hope, in the place of tears it must bring smiles; and must be commended by the joy and happiness of its devotees, rather than by the severity of their countenances.

In accomplishing this mission, we need not ask for tolerance or sympathy from those who differ from us; for in the cause of truth we are not afraid of remaining in the minority. We only ask for just judgment. The time will soon come when the mission of our Unitarian churches will be recognized by all, and when the communities where we live will bear testimony to the value of the services we try to render to society.

ANGELS LOSE PAIR TO SENATORS; OTHER COAST LEAGUE CLUBS DIVIDE GAMES

ANGELS SUFFER LOSS OF LOCAL FANS SHOULD GIVE SUPPORT TO TIGERS NEXT SATURDAY

SACRAMENTO

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Sacramento won three games in two today—twelve innings in the morning, 1 to 0, and fifteen innings in the afternoon, 2 to 1. Both and Whalen fought it out in the morning at Vernon, and Clegg and Atkinson in the afternoon at Clinton. Clegg packed out of all house until the intermission when he walked two more, the only passes he gave, and allowed one hit. Then Howard threw low to Waring after helping Van Buren's drive, and Hulsebrand ended the game safe at the plate with the winding run. The Senators take the series, five game to two. The scores:

REGISTER!

Voters who did not register for the primaries should be reminded that the registration office is now open, and will remain open until the close of registration, September 26. In order to vote at the election, November 8, it is necessary to be registered by September 26. All voters who have not registered since January 1 of this year should therefore go at once to the county clerk's office, and qualify themselves to vote.

JUDGE RAKER

The Democrats of this state seem to be unfortunate in their search for eligible candidates to run for Congress this time. This time it is Judge Raker of Modoc county who, it is discovered, has not considered carefully the laws regarding his candidacy, and may therefore not succeed in making even a formal canvas against Congressman Englehardt in the First California district.

The constitution of the state of California prescribes that no Supreme or Superior judge shall run for any non-judicial office during the time for which he has been elected to his present position. Under these terms, Judge Raker is prohibited from running for office, even though he should resign from his court office. Doubtless this fact would have a very deterrent effect in keeping Democrats from voting for their candidate, even though his name should continue upon the ticket.

Of course, it is now a well understood point of law that no state has a right to determine the qualifications of a member of Congress. For instance, the constitution of Maryland directs that the legislature in choosing United States senators shall elect one from the "East Shore" and one from the "West Shore" of that badly divided state. A few years ago, the legislature violated this rule and elected both senators from the West Shore. The men being duly certified, they were admitted to the United States Senate and served, thereby having all the qualifications set forth by the Constitution of the United States under which they held their offices.

Similarly, it may well be held that the constitution of California has no right to forbid Judge Raker from running for Congress. It is certainly true that if Judge Raker is in due course of time elected and applies for membership in Congress, he will be admitted and given the oath in spite of the fact of his disqualification under the California constitution.

It happens, however, that in order to get elected, Raker must get on a ticket printed under the direction of the secretary of state and made up under the laws of the state of California. Should the secretary of state refuse to place Judge Raker's name on the ticket, or should he attempt to do so and be enjoined from such action, it might be held by the Supreme court of this state that Judge Raker in his candidacy and the secretary of state in the performance of his duty in making up the ticket was governed by the state constitution. To say the least, the Democrats of the First district have shown a paucity of material for public office when they have had to violate a principle of the state constitution in order to obtain a candidate.

GUARDING THE CANAL

From the continuing discussion throughout the United States regarding the fortification of the Panama canal, it is evident that the national administration will have almost universal support in this measure. It is felt that the country must protect the canal in time of war in order to get out of it a proper return for the enormous expenditure which it has undertaken.

The arguments that have been made against the fortification of the canal have nearly all been put forward by extremists of the peace movement. While they may have the theoretical arguments on their side, and the practical fact that in the near future the total war expenditures of the country may become burdensome, their propositions are not specially directed to the proposition of defending the canal, which is the immediate consideration. We are building the big ditch on conditions which will make it a great international highway, in which citizens of the United States will have no more advantages than those of any other nation. Our only superiority will be that given us by proximity of resources, which in these days of rapid trans-ocean sailing amounts to very little. If we are to get our money's worth, we must get it by making use of the canal not for war, but as a means of protection against war.

Those who point out the burdens of a military system, forget the much greater burden both in life and property of war itself and fail to notice that as military burdens have increased, the actual amount of war has decreased. The expenses of preparing for war have relatively taken the place of actual war damage. The United States will probably never again use the canal as a war measure, but the danger will be lessened just so much if it has the ability to use it. Our possible conflict with Japan will be determined not by an actual crossing of swords but by a comparison of war budgets economically compared. Japan is sufficiently strong at the present time to fight half the nations of the world if she could afford it. We are not hunting a fight, but we can head one off by showing an ability to beat the other fellow. So it will be in any possible conflict with Germany for South American trade, or with any other nation with whom business competition may arouse political or racial antagonisms.

It is reported that three trainmen were seriously hurt when a freight train loaded with whisky was wrecked in Illinois. What is to pay damages in this case, railway or whisky trust?

HORSES TRY TO RIDE AND SMASH UP RIG CHOSEN FOR DRIVE

When an anarchist subversive of a team belonging to Claude Thompson tried to go driving instead of being driven yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock there was a scene of wild excitement on N street, near the intersection of Merced. Fortunately the topsy turvy state of affairs did not result in anything worse than a badly smashed up rig. Thompson's team, a fine heavy span, hitched to a light rig, were waiting quietly in the street while their owner was visiting in a house near Fresno street when the excitement started.

Down the thoroughfare, a block away and on the other side of the street, was a smart driving rig belonging to G. N. Freeman, the former county school superintendent. Thompson's team saw the rig and apparently identical ideas arose simultaneously in the brains of the two horses.

Suddenly the team started from their moorings. The two steeds lurched across the street at a wide angle and before the astonished animal belonging to Freeman could get out of the way had come up behind the latter rig and climbed upon it.

By the time masculine assistance arrived Freeman's rig was smashed to a jumble. M. S. Hutchinson, living across the street, ran out and extricated Thompson's team from the muddle, while others seized Freeman's horse. The last was not hurt, but one of the heavy team had slight bruises about the legs due to shoe catching in some woodwork. No bad injuries were suffered by any horses but Freeman's rig was practically destroyed.

LUMBERMEN RETURN HOME AFTER FRESNO MEETING

Many visiting lumbermen from various points in the valley returned to their homes yesterday from a business meeting and social gathering held in Fresno. The quarterly meeting of the lumbermen was held Saturday afternoon at the Hughes. A banquet was held in the evening. Yesterday the visitors spent some time in the sights here.

OCEAN SHORE HERO COMES TO GRIEF

Dives Into Soft Mud Instead of Into Salty Water

He sat alone on the great pier that extended out into the moonlit bay, his graceful figure silhouetted against the shimmering water.

Far out in the moonlit distance a fat oyster boat, much resembling a wash tub, with its stonewall sticking in it added a picturesque note.

He lay there silent there, but feared no approach. There was too much moonlight, and too much pier, and no male loneliness, and he knew could give no rational excuse for walking out to where she was.

Leaving himself on a heap of cotton-need hulls that lay near, the man watched the girl, wishing he might go out there and tell her what he thought about moonlight nights on the coast.

But he had passed her the salt at the Hotel at supper, and she had wrung him a glance, as though she

MINING CONGRESS IS TO MEET TODAY

ACTIVE DEBATE IS EXPECTED UPON SUBJECT OF CONSERVATION

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—There was a Sunday holiday today for the committee in charge of the preparations for the American Mining Congress, which convenes here tomorrow. Delegates to the congress began arriving this afternoon, and the official entertainments are spending the night in automobiles going to and fro between the hotels and railroad stations to accommodate the mining men on trains due between noon and dawn.

E. H. Benjamin of San Francisco and John Denne of Salt Lake, who is being talked of as next president of the congress, were among the first arrivals this afternoon. Ex-Senator William E. Clark of Montana wired his brother, J. Ross Clark of this city, to-day that he was on the way. Governor J. N. Gillett left his home in Eureka today, and the honor of welcoming the delegates at the first session tomorrow will devolve upon Aldo Anderson, former lieutenant governor and president of the State Mining Commission.

KENOSHA, Wis., Sept. 25.—Pauline Wayne, the famous Holstein cow presented by Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin to President Taft, is still in her pasture here and will leave Kenosha the first of next week for Washington. She will travel in state with a full escort of attendants. She is to be sold to the White House barn by Jim Torrey, a direct descendant of "Aunt" Delta, the mother of James Torrey, an eighth son of the president.

The cow is the most aristocratic member of the Senator's famous herd, and has a record of producing twenty-seven pounds of butter in a week.

Pinchot's address, which will be preceded or followed by Secretary Ballinger's letter on the same subject, probably will open the general discussion on conservation. In his bearing upon the fortunes and future of oil and mining men throughout the West.

CONSERVATION

That conservation and the problems it involves will be the topic of greatest interest during the present session of the congress is forecasted by the invitations sent out urging all the mining and oil men of the country to be present. This reads, in part as follows:

"Elias of the utmost seriousness, and many baneful hardships are being imposed on the industries of all these states, and if these industries are to be allowed to survive and continue to pour their wealth into the nation's lap of prosperity, whatever is done must be done quickly lest it be too late."

"Within the last three years, it is safe to say, the total annual output of the United States has decreased not less than 1907 when they took an extended trip to Europe, remaining there for the following two years. They returned to New York in November, 1908, and spent the night at the Plaza hotel.

She continued: "The next morning my husband said: 'Well, now I have gotten you back to America, I am through with you.' He then left the room, and I have never seen him since."

Judge Pike directed an inquiring look at her, saying:

"You understand, Mrs. Fuller, that your husband only consents in his answer to the $300 being paid you each month, only as long as you do not marry again."

Quickly she answered: "Yes, I do."

"And that you disclaim all rights to any property if this alimony is paid you," added the court.

"That's all right; that's all I want; that will do," she curtly answered.

"Well, evidently he doesn't intend to come back to you again. I might as well give you the decree," said the judge. The decree was ordered.

TO DISCUSS REMEDIES

"Despite millions of the serious condition that affects the industries embraced within the American Mining Congress, the committee having in view the details of the program for the coming convention in Los Angeles has departed radically from the traditions of former congresses.

"Debate and remedies will take the place of 'papers' and subjects of most vital national and local importance will be substituted for mining theories.

Conservation and the operation of conservation laws—attributed by operators in many fields as the chief cause for this unfortunate condition of retrogression and stagnation—have been given conspicuous places on the program and speakers of national reputation possessing or reflecting every angle of thought or theory on this intensely important subject have been asked to attend the convention and meet the mining, coal and oil operators and explain to them just what this new policy means and its ultimate and definite operation and also to offer the remedies, if any they have, to correct existing deplorable and in some cases unbearable conditions, while the principles of this policy are being drafted into law and injected into our industrial and commercial life."

WISCONSIN WOMAN FLIES IN BIPLANE

MINEOLA, Sept. 24.—Mrs. Jessica Reichen, the Wisconsin aviatrix who came to grief here a few weeks ago while trying out her new biplane, redeemed herself today by making seven short flights over the Mineola tryout grounds. Her most successful attempt was a flight of a mile and a quarter at a height of 30 feet.

ANTI-MORMON TICKET

SALT LAKE, Sept. 25.—The following resolutions were made last night at the state convention of the American (Anti-Mormon) party:

had known he had studied this little attention out for half an hour before putting it into effect.

The man sighed. Presently the girl arose and walked, balancing along the stringer that edged the pier. If she would only fall off! Then, indeed, he could make her acquaintance.

And as though waves were horses, the girl tottered—she waved her arms frantically, and with a scream she disappeared into the waters of the bay.

With heart elated the man sprang to the rescue, casting clothing behind him as he ran. With a hurried glance at the struggling maiden, he dove toward her—and thrust his head and shoulders a foot and a half into soft, yellow mud.

The water was a foot deep.—Galvez.

and the man watched the girl, wishing he might go out there and tell her what he thought about moonlight nights on the coast.

Frank Dore, desk sergeant at police headquarters, has returned from San Francisco, where he spent a two week's vacation. Frank Trux, who relieved Dore during his absence, is again on duty at night.

Harry Arkelian and son, John, have returned from Portland, where they spent the summer months. The Arkelians conducted a wholesale produce market in the north selling Fresno country melons.

He sat alone on the great pier that extended out into the moonlit bay, his graceful figure silhouetted against the shimmering water.

Far out in the moonlit distance a fat oyster boat, much resembling a wash tub, with its stonewall sticking in it added a picturesque note.

He lay there silent there, but feared no approach. There was too much moonlight, and too much pier, and no male loneliness, and he knew could give no rational excuse for walking out to where she was.

Leaving himself on a heap of cotton-need hulls that lay near, the man watched the girl, wishing he might go out there and tell her what he thought about moonlight nights on the coast.

But he had passed her the salt at the Hotel at supper, and she had wrung him a glance, as though she had known he had given her the salt at supper.

OPUM SMUGGLERS WORK AS FISHERS

Government Spies Are Busy Gathering Evidence in Channel Islands.

VENTURA. Cal., Sept. 25.—Government spies in the hole of fishermen are reported to be keeping a close watch on operations among the channel islands which skirt the Southern California coast. There is a suspicion that opium is being smuggled into the United States from Mexico by way of the islands.

Government officials are working on the theory that the great traffic among the islands is made up of the smugglers and that they are assisted in their operations by certain fishermen. It is said that smugglers run up with the opium from Mexico in small boats and at the islands transfer the contraband stuff to the boats of the fishermen, who in turn get the opium into their fish shipments to Los Angeles and San Francisco. The attention of the government has been attracted by the fact that there has been a stamp in the price of opium in San Francisco and is working on the theory that a great deal is being shipped in, in violation of the law.

FORMER HOSTILE TRIBES WILL GATHER FOR A POW WOW

Diggers and Piutes To Have Fandangos in Yosemite Valley

Government Has Removed Ban Against Sun Dance of Acorn Festival

Major W. W. Forsyth, U. S. A., superintendant of the Yosemite National Park, has arranged for a general Indian pow-wow in October between the formerly hostile tribes of the Sierra, the Diggers, and the Piutes.

For years it has been the custom of many Indians to enter the valley during the autumn season to gather acorns for their winter supply of meat, and this year the visit will be attended by the medicine dances of the Diggers and the fire dances of the Piutes.

Manager Lehmer has arranged that the fandango will be held on October 10, 11 and 12, and the Indians are beginning to arrive in the valley for the celebration.

The pow-wow will begin at noon, October 10, when the meeting between "Captain" Kaley, chief of the Diggers, and Long Tom, the Piute, will officially take place. In the evening the dancing will begin, and the fact that the government has removed the ban against the sun dance means that this feature of the Indian festival that has been absent for nearly twenty-five years will be restored.

The Diggers will hold the floor of the first night's dance. This is one of the most spectacular of the dances of the Western tribes, and while it is not deadly as the Zuni snake dance, or as dangerous as the sun dance, it is far more interesting from the spectators' point of view.

On the last night of the big pow-wow the war dances of both tribes will be on the boards.

It is understood the railroads will put into effect reduced rates to Yosemite on this account.

CONVENTION CALL IN AID OF COUNTY FAIRS

It Will Be Held at Visalia on the Morning of the 4th of October

Secretary A. E. Mott of the Tulare County Board of Trade has sent out under direction of President Johnson of the board and relative to concerted action in the matter of securing state aid for county and agricultural districts. There will be a call for a convention to meet in the Board of Trade rooms at Visalia, Calif., at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, October 4th.

The object of this meeting is that those interested may form a proper organization to secure the desired results at the coming session of the state legislature, and it is hoped that all interested will make a special effort to be at the convention, bringing a strong delegation, representative of those in the particular community designed of concerted action.

CUTS WIFE'S THROAT SLASHES HIS OWN

Bakersfield Man Is Enraged
Because He Could Not Find a Lamp

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 25.—Enraged because he could not find a lamp when he returned home just before dawn today, John Lenninger, a bartender, cut his wife's throat with a razor and then slashed his own throat from ear to ear, slightly puncturing his windpipe. Although separated, the couple had been occupying the same house with their two children, who witnessed the attempted murder and suicide.

Mrs. Lenninger ran to a nearby hospital. The police found Lenninger locked in the house, almost dead from loss of blood, but he has a chance to recover. Mrs. Lenninger also will probably live. She has a suit for divorce pending.

FAIR "BOOSTERS" START OUT TODAY

Brass Band Will Lead Procession of Twenty Autom-biles on Trip into Country

With a brass band in the lead, the Fresno "boosters" will invade a dozen towns in southern Fresno county today. The "boosters" will leave Fresno at 8 o'clock this morning, starting from K and Tulare streets. Arthur McAfee will be in charge of the "boosters." The itinerary is mapped out by Secretary R. A. Powell of the Fair Association as follows:

Easton, Oleander, Bowles, Monmouth, Conjo, Luton, Kingsburg, Selma, Fowler and Madera. The "boosters" will have lunch at Luton. Speeches will be made in the various towns and advertising matter pertaining to the October fair will be distributed. Last year the "boosters" did much toward bringing large crowds to the Fresno fair from neighboring towns. The "boosters" will make another trip into the country tomorrow. H. H. Holland will be in charge.

VILLAGE WRECKED BY STORM
GLASGOW, Sept. 25.—Filip—A village twenty miles from here, is reported to have been wrecked by a storm yesterday. Telephone connection is broken and the extent of the damage cannot be learned.

Columbia University

In the state of New York, has established a course of "Optometry," covering Anatomy, Physics, Mathematics, Light, Lenses and Refraction.

This is the first of the great universities to recognize and encourage the new profession of Optometry. True there have been private Optical Colleges, but no university, no medical school, has ever taught it.

All the occultists know of the subject is what he has "picked up" from writers on the subject. All the optician knows he has gotten the same way, unless he went and took a course at one of the regular Optical Colleges.

Optometry should and will occupy the relation to the public that dentistry does.

The man who masters Optometry does well. The subject is too big to be made a side issue incidental to some other practice, as an additional source of revenue.

HOW WEATHER FORECASTS ARE MADE BY LOCAL BUREAU

For Prognostication Work a Day Is Divided Into Two Parts

DURING CRITICAL RAISIN SEA- SON DISTRICT EVENING BUL- LETIN WILL BE ISSUED

Many inquiries are made of the local weather bureau concerning the forecasts issued, the various types are intended to cover and the reports upon which they are based and it is deemed advisable to W. E. Bennett, the local forecaster, to make the following explanation of these matters in order that a more general and better understanding of them may be had by those who are interested in forecasts.

Forecaster Bennett says that about 200 stations of the weather bureau covering every part of the United States observations are made twice daily. They are made at 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. Eastern or 7th Meridian time, that being simultaneous with 5 a.m. and 5 p.m. Pacific or 12th Meridian time.

These reports are transmitted by telegraph and all are assembled at the central office of the weather bureau in Washington, D. C., while representative lists of reports covering the entire country are assembled at stations where forecasts and weather maps are issued. The local office of the weather bureau at Fresno receives morning reports from sixty-eight stations which go to make up the weather map and form the basis for the forecast. Since July 1st of this year reports have been received daily instead of on week days only as was the arrangement prior to that date.

A local forecast applicable to Fresno and vicinity is issued from the local office of the weather bureau at about 8:30 a.m. daily based upon the morning reports received. The district forecast center at San Francisco issues a forecast for California north of the Tehachapi also based upon the morning reports, it being received at the local office about 8:30 a.m. Both the local and general forecasts are published under their appropriate headings on the weather map issued daily. In addition to such matter as has been prepared in the local office, the afternoon papers print forecasts under San Francisco date line that have been furnished to the Associated Press and other news services by the district forecast center.

These forecasts are made upon the morning reports of observations. No station reports except those received in the morning come to the local office except a few reports of the regular evening observation at California stations, namely, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. However, a complete list of station reports of the evening observations is assembled at the district forecast center at San Francisco and a forecast based upon them is issued from there about 6 p.m. daily. This evening forecast appears under San Francisco date line in the Morning Republican, and is made up will be seen from reports obtained twelve hours later than those upon which the morning forecasts are based.

The morning forecasts are made for the twenty-four hour period beginning at 5 p.m. of the day of issue and ending at 5 p.m. of the succeeding day. For forecast purposes this period is divided into two parts designated in forecasts as "tonight" and the name of the following day. For example, fair and warmer weather tonight; Sunday, showers. By tonight is meant the twelve hours from 5 p.m. to 5 a.m., while the twelve hours indicated by the appropriate name of day of the week begins at 5 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m., the times of the regular observations setting these limits. The evening forecast issued by the district forecaster is made for the succeeding day. Thus it will be seen that two forecasts are made for the day following that which they are issued, one based upon morning reports and the other upon evening reports twelve hours later.

It sometimes happens that the conditions have so changed since the making of the morning forecasts as to justify a change of forecast in the evening. An example of this kind occurred just previous to the recent rains when local and general forecasts issued in the morning were for fair weather, although it has been mistakenly made to appear that a forecast for showers had been issued from the district forecast center in the morning. The local forecast and the general forecast on the day in question were based upon the same information and were in accord. During the day, conditions had so changed as to warrant the making of a cast different from those issued in the morning, which forecast was received about 7 p.m. and was given as wide distribution as possible.

In this overlapping of the forecasts made for the succeeding day, it is intended to confirm the morning forecasts by the light of later reports or advice of a change should one occur. Ordinarily, the evening forecast issued by the district forecaster is not received by the local office of the weather bureau but it will be about 7 p.m. daily during the rain period in order that those interested may have the latest forecast issued. The local office will be open each evening during this critical period so that the latest weather information may be given to those who call for it in person or by telephone. During threatening periods the office is open as long as seems necessary to properly distribute the warnings.

HAY BARNS OF LARGE CONSUMERS ARE FULL

Market Unaffected By 10,000
Ton Timothy Contract for Government

Not much of a change is reported in the San Francisco hay market, for prices have continued as they have been excepting on strictly fancy articles. The market received last week 500 tons of hay.

The circular of Scott, Wagner & Miller reports that nearly all hay that has been coming in is of the medium and ordinary varieties. This type has been slow to move. The large consumers have their barns filled and are not in the market for more. They have piled up hay enough to carry them along for months, and this condition will have its effect and be felt in the market for some time to come probably.

There has been no strictly fancy hay coming in to amount to anything recently as the most of this type of hay that was produced this year has gone into the barns in the country for storage, and will be drawn on gradually through the winter. Therefore, no account of so little having been offered here recently that special type of hay is wanted by the retailers and a little premium over current rates is offered by such stores.

In many of the hay sections the fields have been cleared up, while in other large hay sections where public storage facilities are limited there is considerable in the fields awaiting shipment. There has been some hay loaded on vessels during the week for export and coast shipments.

Advices from Washington report that the contract of the United States government for ten thousand tons of hay to be shipped from San Francisco, in view of the fact that the government authorities in Manila have been favorable to timothy hay for some time, it is a matter for congratulation to California that their ideas have become changed so that it was made possible for California to again compete for this desirable trade. The placing of this order will have no bearing on the market as the shipments of this hay are to be spread out gradually over many months.

Afiliate hay continues firm at quotations.

There is no change to note in straw.

INTEREST IS INCREASING IN LOCAL POLITICAL SITUATION

Johnson to Open Campaign for Republicans Next
Friday at Barton

McSwain Refuses to Allow
J. D. Collins To Be Judge of Controversy

With the opening of the Democratic campaign in Fresno county last week and the opening of the Republican campaign coming this week, interest in the political situation has once more become very keen in Fresno county and no doubt will remain intense from now until the election in November.

The farmers of the county are rapidly harvesting their crops and from now on will be able to devote more of their time to the political situation. The candidates for legislative and county offices on both the Republican and Democratic tickets are putting up a strenuous campaign and although there is yet six weeks before election, the situation is rapidly assuming a position which is seldom seen except during the last few days before election.

Hiram Johnson, the Republican candidate for governor, will open his campaign in Fresno county next Friday night at the Barton opera house and incidentally he will also open the Republican campaign of Fresno county. Congressman Needham will open his campaign in the sixth congressional district in Reedley on Saturday.

Johnson will enter the San Joaquin Valley on Wednesday and will leave on Saturday. His Fresno address will be the only one he will make in Fresno county during the campaign owing to the fact that there is such a demand for him in other parts of the state. In fact it will be absolutely impossible for him to cover the state this time as completely as he did before the primary election. From Fresno, Johnson will go directly to Los Angeles, returning to the southern part of the San Joaquin valley later in the campaign.

The Democrats have arranged for meetings every night this week in some part of the county. Tonight a meeting will be held in Selma to be addressed by A. L. Cowell, George W. Cartwright and M. G. Gallagher. Sanjour will be visited on Tuesday and the speakers will be Cowell, Cartwright and S. L. Strother. On Wednesday the same speakers will address a meeting at Reedley. Cowell will leave on Thursday for other parts of the sixth congressional district.

Pawley will be visited Thursday night, the speakers being Cartwright, Gallagher and the county candidates, and the same speakers will address a meeting at Kingsburg on Friday night. Cartwright, Strother and the county candidates will speak in Clovis on Saturday night.

McSWAIN ATTACKS MASON.

An amusing incident in connection with the sheriff's fight, which has caused a great deal of comment, occurred Saturday between Walter McSwain, the Democratic candidate for sheriff, and Al Mason, the Republican candidate.

McSwain laying claim to practically all the credit for the capture and conviction of the notorious Helm boys, has been making political capital of this claim. On Saturday, a statement was published to the effect that Mason was the first man to apprehend these boys and that he was taken to Stockton by District Attorney Church, the county's detective, when the cases were transferred there.

Upon reading this statement, McSwain had an affidavit prepared and meeting Mason on the street Saturday, told him to sign it. The affidavit was to the effect that McSwain did the most work in the case. Mason returned to sign the affidavit, and after a short parley of words, he proposed that the two go to J. D. Collins, who was sheriff when the Helm boys were arrested, and let Collins be the judge. Mc-

MACHINERY CONTRACTS FOR CREAMERY ARE NOW LET

Riverdale Institution Will Be Operating By 1st of December

Plant Will Have a Capacity
Daily of 3,000 Pounds of Butter

Contracts for the Riverdale Cooperative Creamery, it was reported yesterday, have been signed, and that the institution will be running by the first of December. C. A. Starkweather, a dairyman of considerable experience, is manager of the new concern, the stock of which is held by the Johnsons, and about Riverdale, some twenty miles southwest of Fresno. The creamery will be one of the most up-to-date in the valley, and will have a capacity of 3,000 pounds of butter a day.

The machinery equipment will cost over $6000. Some $4000 of this sum is represented in the creamery property, while the remainder will be expended in the refrigerating machinery. H. J. Frankel, of the Baker & Hamilton company of San Francisco, signed the contracts for the creamery machinery, according to report, while the refrigerating machinery will be supplied by the Cyclops company of San Francisco, it is
